

Introduction Page

Welcome to the E-SESS online assessment system. This visual guide to the E-SESS participant interface explores each element of the interface from the login screen to the assessment. Each image includes numbered labels. The labels are explained below the image.

Important Information

As a participant, you need to know what assessment you are supposed to be taking. Check to see that the test you think you should be taking is the one that appears on the Participant Home page. Before you click Begin, make sure the correct test is listed. If it is NOT the correct test, let your proctor or adviser know immediately so you can be moved to the correct test. You must click Submit for Grading when you are ready to have your assessment scored. If you do not click Submit for Grading, the system will lock you out when your time (if taking a timed assessment) has completely expired and the system will record you as having used the entire allotted time. For example, Jim takes an assessment and is done in 20 minutes, but the assessment has a one-hour time limit. If Jim clicks Submit for Grading, the system will record him as using 20 minutes. If Jim does not click Submit for Grading, then the system will wait until the full hour has run out and will then record him as using one hour.

If you have questions about using this interface, please contact your assessment administrator or e-mail E-SESS customer service personnel at essess@pitsco.com.
